USB drive helps you in emergencies

If a medical emergency happens while you're away from home, the Traveler-ER drive can help you, or your traveling companions, provide caregivers with pertinent data. The password-protected USB drive securely stores your personal information, medical history, doctors' contact information, emergency contacts, travel history and the all-important health insurance data. Plus, the most vital information is packaged together in a printable Emergency Records Report. The drive costs about $30.
